

BUENOS AIRES: Comprising almost the entire southern half of South America, Argentina is the world's eighth largest country, covering an area of 2.8 million square km. Argentina possesses some of the world's tallest mountains, expansive deserts, and impressive waterfalls, with the diversity of the land ranging from wild, remote areas in southern Patagonia to the bustling metropolis of Buenos Aires in the north. Breaking with the conventional mould of Latin American capitals, Buenos Aires has its own style. 11 million "porteños" live in it. They drink wine made in the foothills of the Andean range; eat beef from cows fed on Pampa pastures and lamb from Patagonia. Extraordinary buildings, the product of a well-defined European heritage, give it a singular personality, where different architectural styles such as Neo-Gothic, French and Italian live in harmony with modern crystal towers. Buenos Aires offers tourists many interesting sights, entertainment, restaurants, sports facilities, nightlife - indeed much that will make them want to return.
